GROHE Electronic faucets NEW

Top-end developments demand high-specification products – designed faucets that are durable, water-efficient and hygienic to use. Balancing these requirements with a modern aesthetic, GROHE has extended its range of electronic faucets with two new designs: Allure and Essence. Cosmopolitan in their design, each is available in two variants: basin deckmounted or wall-mounted – where only the spout and electronic sensor are on show. These new faucets feature the latest energy-efficient technology for reduced power consumption. Several variants with and without mixing device are available in either battery or mains (230V) operated version.
